Part IV Overview of the Structure of the Mass

The Communion Rite

Christ comes to us not merely to stand at a distance, but to be united with us — each and every one of us — to mingle his flesh and blood with our flesh and blood. That is what takes place in the Mass's Communion Rite. We begin this portion of the Mass by praying in the words Jesus taught us: the Lord's Prayer, the "Our Father." We dare to call God "Father" because we are one with Jesus, who is the eternal Son of God. It is our Communion with Jesus that makes this possible. In this prayer we ask for "our daily bread," which the first Christians interpreted in a eucharistic sense. In the Mass, God gives the Church its sustenance.

We follow the Lord's Prayer by exchanging a Sign of Peace. This varies from culture to culture. In some places in the world, people bow to one another. In our country, it has been customary to shake hands. We make peace in this way because Jesus asked us to do so. In the Sermon on the Mount, he said: "If you bring your gift to the altar, and there recall that your brother has anything against you, leave your gift there at the altar, go first and be reconciled with your brother, and then come and offer your gift" (Matthew 5:23-24).

We proceed then to sing the Lamb of God (in Latin, Agnus Dei). This is an ancient hymn based upon the cry of St. John the Baptist: "Behold, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world" (John 1:29). We identify this "Lamb," as the Bible does, with the eucharistic Jesus. Remember the words of St. Paul: "For our paschal lamb, Christ, has been sacrificed. Therefore let us celebrate the feast ... with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (1 Corinthians 5:7-8).

Afterward, the priest breaks the host, as Jesus broke the unleavened bread at the Last Supper, and he elevates it, saying "Behold the Lamb of God ..." The congregation responds with another line adapted from the Gospel: "Lord, I am not worthy to have you enter under my roof, but only say the word and my soul shall be healed" (Matthew 8:8). (Excerpts from page 29)

Please go through the lost and found in the Narthex at St. Anthony. All items will be thrown out at the end of August.

"The primary goal in the education of children is to teach, and to give the example of, a virtuous life." ~ St. John Chrysostom

In March of 1888 in Castelpetroso, Italy, Our Lady of Sorrows appeared to two women. As word of this apparition spread, many people, including skeptics, traveled to the site to decide for themselves if it were true. As many as 4,000 pilgrims testified to seeing Our Lady of Sorrows appear between 1888 and 1889. In May of 1888, a spring appeared from the rock where the light had first been seen. When a young boy with tuberculosis visited the spring in November 1888, he was cured instantly. Many members of the clergy, including bishops, investigated the apparitions and found them to be worthy of belief. In May of 1890, the bishop of Bojano, in union with Pope Paul VI, approved the building of the Our Lady of Sorrows Basilica.
